The Seminary's Mission
Educating Servant Leaders for Ministry

Dear Friends, current and former Students, and Alumni graduates of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, it is an honor and privilege to be entrusted with the responsibility of carrying on the ministry and calling of this institution, building on the vision and the foundation of the great men who started and nurtured it during its earlier years, Dr. Gordon Cross, Dr. Forrest Slane, and Dr. Wellington Whittlesey. Special thanks go to Dr. Myron Miller, who carried the Seminary forward to accreditation during his tenure. The Seminary's academic degree programs are licensed by the State of Florida's Commission for Independent Education. The Seminary provides undergraduate and graduate programs of a high quality, both by means of classroom instruction for those who live in the Tampa Bay area, and internationally by utilizing distance learning technology, while maintaining personalized professor-student interaction.

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva's trans-denominational stance allows us to offer training to persons of every denomination. By offering courses based on solid biblical scholarship, students of every faith that honors Jesus as Messiah and Lord are equipped with the tools necessary for ministry. A key distinctive of the Seminary's curriculum, and a vital element since the beginning, is the Judaic studies emphasis and approach to the study of the Bible. Yeshua (Jesus), the disciples, Rav Sha'ul (the Apostle Paul), and all of the first adherents of the new faith in Yeshua as Messiah were after all, Jews, steeped in the culture, traditions and world view of Israel of the Older Testament. Our understanding of the language, allusions, and message of the Newer Testament is clarified and enriched by a conscious effort to learn to look at the whole of the Scriptures, Older and Newer Testaments, "through Jewish eyes."

Our goal is to offer those whom the Lord is calling to serve him, the opportunity to reach his or her fullest potential through every part of the curriculum, in every degree program. Our commitment to you is to help you achieve the goal which the Lord has given you, to become a well-equipped servant leader in his kingdom.

The Mission of the Seminary

Educating Servant Leaders For Ministry

St. Petersburg Seminary & Yeshiva exists to provide Education to proclaim the Good News of the Older and Newer Testaments with Power and Authority for our Age.

OUR VISION FOR THE SEMINARY & YESHIVA FOCUSES ON THESE BASIC PRINCIPLES

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva identifies itself as embracing what has been identified as a biblical faith expressed in an historical and cultural context, with a clear evangelical emphasis, rooted in the first century Jewish expression of faith in the One God of Israel. By this we understand that the Scriptures, which form the basis for faith, are those of the Old and New Testament canon affirmed by the historic Rabbinic and Church Councils and reaffirmed in the Protestant Reformation as the sole basis for theological authority. In addition, we affirm that the Holy Spirit functions as a guide in the study and application of these Scriptures to enable the believer to live the life approved by God. To this end, these Scriptures and the Holy Spirit enable the believer to share effectively the life of the Messiah, otherwise known as the Christ, God's promised anointed One, with those who have yet to be reconciled to God through Jesus' death and resurrection. The following statement of biblical foundations, then, provides the outline for understanding the details of this stance.

A Summary of the Basic Principles

We, the members of the family involved in the ministry of the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, believe the following Basic Principles:

1. God sent the Eternal Son into this world, born of Mary and named Yeshua (in the Greek, Jesus), fulfilling a covenant made repeatedly to the Jewish people through its prophets to provide an anointed redeemer, to live the standard of loving commitment to the internalization of God's law, and that
2. the confession of Yeshua (Jesus) as one's Lord, affirming that he was raised from the dead to justify our confidence in his right to be the Lord of all aspects of life, is indispensable for salvation, and that
3. each individual is in rebellion against the Creator of the whole Universe, resulting in each individual being at odds with God, others, and one's self, and that
4. the inerrant Word of God is the source of information revealing these truths and all those that are necessary for living a life in conformity with God's will, manifested in the canonical Scriptures of the Older and Newer Testaments, there being no other written source to provide this information with full authority, and that
5. God has provided the Holy Spirit as the presence to empower both individuals and congregations to manifest in supernatural ways the love that becomes a witness to draw others to reconciliation with God, reconciliation made possible only because of the sacrificial death and resurrection of Yeshua (Jesus).

The Vision Objectives

The language of the faith has historically divided the Hebrew Bible, the Tanach, from the New Testament. This leads to the erroneous, but natural, perception that the “Old” Testament, while foundational to the faith of the “New” Testament, is the anticipation of what the “New” Testament fulfilled. This usually means that there is no need to study carefully the Tanach any more than physicists need to carefully study Isaac Newton's Principia Mathematica; the newer material is clearer and more complete.

It is the perspective of the vision of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva that this canonical development of scripture is to be understood as a single stream of information. We don't have an old, superseded covenant replaced by a new covenant. The truth of the older expression of God's covenant promises to bring men and women into reconciliation is fully expressed in the Torah, Writings, and the Prophets.

How God was to fulfill, and did indeed fulfill, these covenant promises is increasingly clearer in the Torah, Writings, Prophets, the Gospels, and the Epistles. It is, however, the covenant promises by which God provides, without human merit, loving reconciliation (e.g., Deuteronomy 30:6-10).

To translate this vision into the educational policies and practices of the Seminary requires the understanding that the Second Temple period is not time out. The Students must know the historical and cultural development of this period in order to understand how the revelation of God's plan to accomplish reconciliation to humanity develops.

The Two Complementary Objectives

There are necessarily two objectives in the learning aim of the Seminary. The first is that students will understand God's gracious covenant promises, revealed to the people of Israel through the Torah, Prophets and Writings, as the document and heritage structure that forms the basis of living for God and serving others.

Further, those students will understand the Newer Testament as providing continuity with the intentions of the Older Testament by connecting the teachings of Yeshua to the expansion of God's love and grace to all people everywhere.

Philosophy of Education

These objectives are set in the context of the conviction that theological learning is driven by the Holy Spirit. St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is a center for the academic and character development of men and women for the several ministries which believers may adopt in communicating the biblical message of God's redemption.

Thus, it intends to be for all who attend a place of simplicity, humility, and scholarship. Persons who seek to learn with thoroughness in order to be able to serve with distinction are cordially welcome to its offerings and programs. The Seminary maintains that a thorough knowledge of the Scriptures as the inerrant Word of God must be the first step in the educational process.

SEMINARY DISTINCTIVES

From its beginning, St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva has recognized that it has a responsibility to be innovative in a number of areas, particularly because of its focus as a center that meets the needs of people already in the field who find in us opportunity to advance their capabilities for service, but also because of the needs of lay people who seek to become more capable in their ministries for God.

1. A Distinct respect for The Absolutes

The Seminary stands unashamedly for the biblical absolutes as spelled out in our Basic Principles.

2. A Distinctive approach to Biblical Studies

The Seminary assumes the responsibility to place Scripture in the forefront of all activities. No class is exempt. But such studies must be based on historical and geographical data which is accurate. Hebrew, New Testament Greek and related studies, as well as strong biblical introduction courses, make this possible. Strong safeguards against any form of extremism, heresy, or blind dogmatism are built into our great biblical heritage. The Older Testament Scriptures, the teaching of Yeshua, a careful reading of first century Jewish literature, and the careful study of the writings of present-day 'scholars, will enable the student to have a proper hermeneutic. It is our conviction that some of our present understanding is faulty, that new insights are yet available to God's people from the Scriptures, and that special care needs to be observed to separate our own theology from that which Scripture intends.

3. Distinctive Imperative for Intercession

From its inception, the Seminary has been dedicated to prayer for every area of discipleship. The Cabinet invites prayer requests from all members of the Seminary family.

4. A Distinct Approach to Judaic Studies

All students are encouraged to take advantage of studying in Israel, but all are required to study our Jewish background. The Seminary's degrees in Judaic Studies and the Yeshiva (instruction for synagogue leadership) are, of course, distinctives of the Seminary, but we also require of every student some degree of understanding of our Jewish heritage. The place Yeshua gives to Jewish believers is one of special honor, as do we. We recognize as our privilege the fellowship and guidance of our contemporaries who have special insights to share.

5. Distinct Respect for The Apostolic Faith

With those of all ages, the Seminary desires to "continue steadfastly in the apostles' teaching." The only witness we have to the will of the Lord Yeshua is this, for they are the ones who give us his teaching.

6. A Distinctive Testimony to the Heavenly Hope

Being careful not to require uniformity of expression regarding the precise manner in which Yeshua shall return, the Seminary is united in its testimony that the return of the Lord Yeshua is our confident hope; we anticipate Yeshua's bodily return to the earth, his millennial reign, the final judgment, and the eternal reign with him of all believers.

Viewing Scripture in its Historical, Cultural, Social, Economic, and Religious Context

The fundamental distinctive of the Seminary is that it takes seriously what the Scripture read and sounded like to a Jew at the time that the documents were delivered publicly. To this end the courses of the Seminary are grounded in the historical, grammatical, and cultural perspectives of the biblical times and places.

A Theo-centric View with Openness to Multiple Traditions

The advantage this gives to the study of the Scriptures is that it allows us to look at the Word from the perspective of different religious and denominational traditions, as equally effective in allowing adherents to express their own emotional and social traditions, to define how they express their affirmation of the Lordship of Yeshua. The aim, then, is to strengthen every denominational and religious tradition that allows Yeshua to be acknowledged as Lord and God to be glorified.

To this end the faculty, student body and the Board of the Seminary are composed of representatives of a wide range of denominational and religious commitment. Students are not discouraged from allegiance to their preferred religious traditions. All are encouraged to find in their fellowship and associations with other believers a richer experience enabling them to more clearly present the Lordship of Yeshua as paramount in all they do.

The Two Distinct Education Units of the Seminary

The Seminary is the home of two distinct programmatic ministries, which together make this unique educational experience possible. St. Petersburg Theological Seminary provides both undergraduate and graduate studies for preparation for professional church ministries. The Netzer David International Yeshiva provides systematic preparation for rabbis and other leaders in Messianic congregations. In 2011 the relationship between the two schools was restated and began doing business under the combined name, duly registered with the State of Florida, St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, an association of St. Petersburg Theological Seminary and The Netzer David International Yeshiva. A new logo was adopted at the same time, as pictured on the cover of this catalog, namely a combination of the fish, an early Christian symbol, and the menorah, an original part of the furnishings for the wilderness tabernacle and the later temples, the seven branched candelabra. The color blue is chosen as representing the modern State of Israel.

The combined institutions together make up the Seminary as an institution committed to our Lord to prepare people fully equipped to lead others into a discipleship relationship with Yeshua, our Messiah and Lord, either as ordained ministers or rabbis, or as lay leaders in their congregations.

...in your hearts sanctify Messiah as Lord. Always be ready to make your defense to anyone who demands from you an accounting for the hope this is in you (1 Peter 3:15)

GENERAL INFORMATION

Purpose of the Seminary

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva has as its purpose the effective education of men and women for the gospel ministry in a variety of callings. In this task we are committed to working cooperatively with those who share our general commitments. We aim to prepare leaders in various vocations. Our intent is to instill the faith, cordial love, and humble service, which characterizes those men and women who have served and are serving our churches and synagogues. This purpose is pursued through the development of a community of professors and scholars, together seeking the meaning of Scripture for their lives and for application in the worlds which they affect. The curriculum represents this purpose, supported by all the resources of the Seminary.

History of the Seminary

St. Petersburg Theological Seminary was founded in 1983 as a result of the vision of Dr. Gordon Cross, pastor of First Evangelical Baptist Church, and others, who saw the great need for advanced study for those who were serving as pastors, directors of Christian education, Church musicians, and Christian counselors. Soon it broadened its vision to include preparation for those in leadership within messianic synagogues. At first, the seminary served under the Charter of the Church, but in 1985 it received its own charter and the institution moved to rented quarters.

Dr. Forrest Slane, a friend and colleague of Dr. Cross, was appointed as the Seminary's first President in 1983. Under Dr. Slane's administration, the Seminary gathered a team of qualified professors, established the curriculum, and awarded its first degrees. The Seminary stands as a testimony to these two energetic men. When Dr. Slane found that his business responsibilities required him to resign in 1986, the Board appointed Dr. Wellington W. Whittlesey as the second President. He served until 1994, when Dr. Ray M. Brubaker became the third President. Dr. Whittlesey returned as the fourth President when he was named to succeed Dr. Brubaker in 1995. Dr. Myron M. Miller became its fifth President on June 15, 1999, upon the retirement of Dr. Whittlesey and the call of God through the Board of Trustees.

Under Dr. Miller's leadership, the seminary attained accreditation with TRACS and licensure from the state to grant traditional degrees (BA, MA, MS), as well as the MDiv and the DMin. Upon Dr. Miller's retirement in December 2004, Dr. Patrice Fischer served as interim President through November 2005, when Dr. Manuel L. Sykes became the Seminary's seventh President. On September 1, 2008, Dr. John Guedes began serving as Interim President, and as President on October 12, 2009 to the present.

Netzer David International Yeshiva was founded in 1998 at the request of the Seminary Board by Rabbi Dr. John Fischer, to train men and women for leadership in Messianic Jewish congregations and ministries. The Yeshiva offers four degrees, a Bachelor of Arts in Judaic Studies, a Master of Arts in Judaic Studies, and a Master of Rabbinic Studies and a Doctor of Ministry in Judaic Studies. The Yeshiva programs are offered and operated within the academic structure of the Seminary, sharing facilities, faculty, staff and administration (see pp. 20 and 25 for a detailed description of the programs).

The faculty is dedicated to teaching, scholarship, and ministry. A number of the faculty are authorities in their own fields, and all serve as counselors to students and seek to be role models for ministry.

Among the variety of traditions from which students and faculty have come as they combine to make up the Seminary family are the following: African Methodist Episcopal, Assembly of God, Baptist, Bible, Brethren, Christian (Disciples of Christ), Christian and Missionary Alliance, Episcopal, Free Methodist, Messianic Jewish, Roman Catholic, United Methodist, Presbyterian, Friends, Open Bible, and members of Independent Churches.

Location

The Seminary is located in Clearwater at 3190 Gulf to Bay Blvd., where Bayshore Blvd. joins Gulf to Bay Blvd., just east of McMullen Booth Road. The Seminary occupies an office, three (3) classrooms and a three (3) room library, all of which are leased from Congregation Ohr Chadash, a Messianic Jewish synagogue. Our lease includes the use of two (2) additional rooms as needed for seminars and guest speakers, as well as the building's kitchen and other amenities.

Visitors are welcome at any time of the year. Persons wishing to meet with the President or the Vice President of Academics should phone for an appointment at 727-669-0276, or email at office.stpeteseminary@gmail.com.

ACADEMIC INFORMATION

An Introduction to the Seminary

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva offers the environment of an evangelical faith community in a setting of interdenominational cooperation. Students pursue their academic and professional development under the guidance of a faculty which is concerned for their spiritual growth. Small classes, a sensitive faculty, on campus facilities, and internet classes to provide a warm and enriching center for study and growth.

Although the Seminary is interdenominational in scope, it is expected that each person in the Seminary be loyal to his or her own community and take regular part in a local church or synagogue.

Admissions Program

Students interested in pursuing degree programs at S. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva should apply for admission as soon as possible in advance of their first enrollment. Persons entering as audit students or as special students need only make application before classes begin, since their transcripts and other records will not need to be evaluated prior to their enrollment. The Seminary seeks to serve all persons who desire to learn with thoroughness, in order to serve with excellence.

To be formally admitted to the bachelor's program the student must have completed an Associate of Arts degree or its equivalent, from an accredited institution. Those students who have not completed the admission requirements will be provisionally admitted and allowed to take classes. They must complete an

AA or its equivalent prior to completion of the last 15 credits of the bachelor's degree program.

Application Procedures

1. Complete and return the application form to the Director of Admissions with an application fee of $50 (non-refundable) at least two months prior to the desired entrance date, though this may be waived in exceptional circumstances.
2. Request that official college transcripts be sent directly to the Seminary from every college or university you have attended.
3. Have the three reference letters completed (teacher, general and pastor or rabbi) and sent to the Admissions office.
4. If the applicant has no college/university credits, a high school diploma, or its equivalent will be required.

The Seminary will examine the credentials to determine whether the applicant should be admitted. Several criteria are considered: personal confession of faith, moral character, seriousness of purpose, adequate previous training in the liberal arts, and a judgment as to the prospective student's ability to benefit from the training offered. A student granted admission may delay registering at the Seminary one year beyond the date indicated in his application without being required to reapply.

Evaluation and Awarding of Transfer Credits

The registrar and the area head of the applicant's intended degree program will review transcripts for credit evaluation. With regard to the transfer of credits from other accredited institutions, it is the policy of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva to:

1. Award block two-year credit to students who have earned an Associate of Arts degree with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0; or
2. Accept, for transfer students without Associate of Arts degrees, only those appropriate college level courses in which grades of C or higher were earned. Credits will be accepted for transfer to equal up to the 60 credits needed to be equivalent to Associate of Arts degree.
3. Accept, for transfer credit, courses with comparable titles, descriptions and contents to Seminary courses in which grades of C or higher were earned.

Equivalency to the Associate of Arts Degree

The Seminary has established what the distribution of first and second year (lower division) undergraduate courses should be to define the contents of the equivalent of the Associate of Arts degree. The detailed description of this set of courses is set forth in the "Transcript Check and Guidance Sheet," a copy of which may be obtained from the Registrar's Office.

The distribution is 34 credits in general education and 26 credits in general electives. The 34 credits of General Education are 6 credits of communications (specifically English Composition 1 and 2), 6 credits of mathematics/logic/economics, 6 credits of physical science, 6 credits of humanities, 6 credits of social and/or behavioral sciences, 3 credits of philosophy, including ethics, and one credit of physical education or personal wellness education. The general elective distribution is as follows: at least 3 credits of humanities, at least 3 credits of social and/or behavioral sciences, at least 3 credits of philosophy, no more than 2 credits of career and life development courses, no more than 6 credits of technological and/or computer courses, and no more than 3 credits of physical education and/or vocational courses.

Admission to the Degree Programs and Transfer of Credits

Credit transferred from another institution will be evaluated and accepted if appropriate, thereby reducing the number of credit hours required at St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva. Transfer credits may be accepted for work completed within the past eight years from institutions accredited by accrediting associations recognized as such by the United States Department of Education.

Transferability of elective credits earned before or after a student has enrolled will be determined in consultation between the Vice President of Academics (VPA) and the Registrar. Transferability of required credits will be determined through consultation among the VP A, the chair of the area of study/degree program in which the transfer credit is requested, and the Registrar.

Transfer students must earn at least 50% of their credits at the Seminary, with the exception of the MDiv, which requires at least 33% of the credits to be earned at the Seminary. Credits which have already been applied toward an earned degree cannot be transferred.

Graduate students who have taken courses required for their graduate program during their undergraduate study may substitute other courses from the same area (as approved by the area chair) to fulfill these requirements, provided that they have also completed the graduate level course objectives the Course Curriculum Guide for the courses taken as undergraduates.

Special Student Status

In extraordinary cases, as when an applicant's age or family situation makes the completion of a bachelor's degree program prior to Seminary studies unfeasible, a student who does not possess the required academic credentials may be admitted as a Special Student on the basis of examination. Such a student must demonstrate knowledge of the liberal arts and an ability to pursue graduate studies. Students admitted on the basis of examination, and who complete the program of courses, are eligible to receive certification" attesting to this fact, but are not eligible to receive the MDiv, MA or MS degrees until the bachelor's degree is completed.

Unclassified Student Status

Students who are not intending to complete a course of study leading to a degree may register for course work after being admitted through the usual procedure outlined above. Such an Unclassified Student is charged the same tuition and fees, may take an unlimited number of courses, and may receive a transcript from the Seminary setting forth the courses completed if courses are taken for credit. The Seminary encourages individual members of congregations to take courses who simply wish either to continue their education, deepen their understanding of the scripture, broaden their sphere of reflective fellowship, or enhance their pilgrimage as they empower themselves to be more effective witnesses of the grace of God that is within them.

Course work taken at the seminary may be engaged in for enrichment and need not be applied to a degree or certificate program. When this is done, the student will indicate in the appropriate place on the application that the course work is being taken for personal growth. Courses may be taken for credit or audit.

Course work that is taken as an auditor, that is, not for academic credit, will be indicated on the transcript as audit. Should the student wish to take course work on a pass / no pass basis, arrangement may be made under the direction of the Registrar, upon the recommendation of the Vice President of Academics. Such course work includes performing all the requirements of the course, meeting the expectations stated in the Curriculum Guides for courses offered at the Seminary.

Evidence of English Usage Competence

Undergraduate Applicants:

1. Students applying for admission to the undergraduate program shall show evidence of competence in written English by:
 - a. the quality of the biographical sketch required on the Application for Entrance form, and,
 - b. for those applying for admission on the basis of an Associate of Arts Degree (AA), or on the basis of AA equivalency, their undergraduate transcript must show that they have taken at least 6 credit hours of English Composition, with a grade of C or better.
2. Undergraduate student applicants who lack this 6 credit hours of English Composition with a grade of C or better may be admitted provisionally for one semester, and be allowed to take one 3 cr. hr. course at the Seminary, while simultaneously enrolling in an approved institution to complete the English Composition requirement. The provisional enrollment may be extended for one semester.

Graduate Level Applicants:

1. Students applying for admission to a graduate program shall show competence in written English by:
 - a. the quality of the biographical sketch required on the Application for Admission form, and,
 - b. by presenting examples of other previous acceptable writing in English, such as a recent college term paper, or some printed or published essay or article.
2. Students submitting examples of writing judged to be substandard shall be required to complete remedial work in English composition.

Demonstration of Prior Bible Knowledge

Those admitted to a degree program will be required to take BOT 5503 Old Testament Survey, and BNT 5603 New Testament Survey, depending on the extent of their prior knowledge of courses in the Bible, or its lack.

Conversion of Work Experience to Credit (CWECC)

Undergraduate students who have enrolled in the Seminary as candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree (BA), and who have post-secondary study courses or work experience that they think might qualify for college course credit, in lieu of taking the prescribed courses, may engage in a process of evaluation of those courses or work experience to see if they do qualify for college course credit.

Examples include seminars or experience in church/synagogue vocation related study or experience, teaching, counseling, administration, mission trips, extension or correspondence courses, etc. The process involves getting an application and guidelines from the Registrar, selecting a specific course or courses in the undergraduate curriculum, with which the life experience seems to correlate, and working with an advisor designated by the Director of Undergraduate Studies to prepare a portfolio for evaluation.

The evaluation will follow guidelines established by the Council on Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL). There are fees for this evaluation and specific time frames for the completion of the process. CWECC courses that are approved will be entered in the student's record as if actually taken, without differentiating them as CWECC credits.

Courses identified by the U.S. military as equivalent to their training program, as listed in their catalog of equivalencies, are also able to be used to meet the general education course requirements for AA degree equivalency. In addition, any courses that may have been graded in the national equivalency program for advanced credit in undergraduate evaluation may be used in establishing AA degree equivalency. See the Registrar for the details.

This CWEC procedure is limited to Seminary courses required in the undergraduate program and does not apply to its graduate programs. Students who believe they have work experience that would qualify for the liberal arts general education courses normally associated with the AA degree, or its equivalent, that is, to fulfill the required 60 transfer hours required for the Seminary undergraduate program, are referred to St. Petersburg College, Eckerd College, or other institution that may have a program for evaluating such life/work experience.

Transferability of Credits to Other Institutions

Transferability of credits earned at this institution is at the discretion of the accepting institution.

Definition of a "Unit of Credit Hour"

The Seminary follows the definition regulated by the State of Florida, Department of Education, of what constitutes a "credit hour" for semester course offerings. This is stated in the Seminary's Curriculum and Instruction Manual, Appendix D, as follows:

College credit. College credit is the type of credit assigned to courses or course equivalent learning that is part of an organized and specified program leading to a graduate or a baccalaureate degree. One (1) college credit is based on the learning expected from the equivalent of fifteen (15) fifty-minute periods of classroom instruction. Course credits for such things as internships, practice, and clinical experience are determined by the institution providing the training, based on the proportion of direct instruction related to the internship hours, practicum time, or clinical practice hours."

Undergraduate

Full time	12 credit hours
$\frac{3}{4}$ time	9 credit hours
$\frac{1}{2}$ time	6 credit hours
Less than $\frac{1}{2}$	3 credit hours

Graduate

Full time	9 credit hours
$\frac{1}{2}$ time	6 credit hours
Less than $\frac{1}{2}$	3 credit hours

Academic Standing

The Seminary assigns grade points as follows: A, 4 points; B, 3 points; C, 2 points; D, 1 point; F, no points. Courses in which there are no letter grades (pass/fail) are not computed in the student's grade point average.

Students are expected to maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA). For undergraduate students it is 2.0, for master's level students, 3.0, and for doctoral students it is 3.5. If a student's GPA falls below this minimum at the end of any full semester (fall or spring), he or she is placed on academic probation. If the GPA improves significantly during the following semester but is still below the minimum, he or she will be allowed to continue on probation for one more semester. However, if the GPA does not reach the minimum after 2 semesters on academic probation he or she will be asked to withdraw from the Seminary.

Grading Policy

It is the policy of the Seminary to leave to the teachers to define in their syllabi the ways that grades in their courses are to be "earned. The meaning of the grades assigned is the following: A = 4 quality points (excellent), B = 3 (good), C = 2 (average), D = 1 (poor); and F = 0 (failure). The detailed grading scale is as follows:

GRADE	DESCRIPTION	QUAL. POINTS	MINIMUM	MAXIMUM
A	Excellent	4	93	100
A-	Excellent	3.75	90	92
B+	Good	3.25	88	89
B	Good	3	83	87
B-	Good	2.75	80	82
C+	Average	2.25	78	79
C	Average	2	73	77
C-	Average	1.75	70	72
D+	Poor	1.25	68	69
D	Poor	1	65	67
F	Failure	0	0	64
Audit	-	-	-	-
I	Incomplete	See Incomplete Policy below for resolution of an "I" (p. 41)
IP	In Process	-	-	-
W	Withdrew	-	-	-

Conditions of Reentrance

If a student who has been asked to withdraw for failure to raise his or her GP A to the required level wishes to return to the Seminary at a later time, he or she may reapply, supplying in addition, references and other documentation establishing that the student has successfully completed remedial studies, or taken other action to correct whatever deficiency may have contributed to the former below-grade performance. If, after evaluating the application and supporting documentation, the Admissions Committee, in consultation with the program head, determines that there is a reasonable expectation that the student will succeed in a second effort to benefit from the program, he or she may be readmitted on a conditional basis.

Student's Catalog of Record

Each student normally endeavors to fulfill the requirements set forth in the catalog in force whenever he or she enters the Seminary. However, a student who wishes to reenter after a lapse in matriculation of two or more years will be given the option of choosing whether they wish to reenter under the then current catalog or a previous catalog up to but no earlier than 5 years previous to their reentry. A student who extends his or her their continuous enrollment more than eleven semesters will be required to fulfill the catalog requirements in force during his or her twelfth semester. In all instances, students carry full responsibility for completing their own program of study. Advisors cannot be held responsible for student failure to meet specific requirements.

It is the obligation of students to make sure that they register for courses required in their degree programs as they are offered. Because some may not be scheduled during the three-year cycle, a student nearing completion of his or her program, the required course not having been offered during this time, must arrange with the Vice President of Academics for an approved completion before graduation.

Registration and Attendance

Students will register for course work for each term at the time designated in the Academic Calendar published in the catalog. To give continuing students an opportunity to be sure that they will be able to have the courses needed, a pre-registration period for the following term or semester is provided near the end of each semester.

Registration for classes at the Seminary must take place no later than by the end of the first class of the course. Students may add or drop courses between the first and second meeting of the class in which he or she wants to enroll, if the instructor gives written consent. Instructors may permit students to register up to the second class for the course they are teaching.

There may be no registration for courses after the end of the second class meeting, nor may there be any transfer of classes after the second class meeting of the course to which transfer is desired, except with the express written consent of the instructor and approval of the Academic Dean.

Cancellation of Classes

A scheduled class may be canceled during the first week of classes if the enrollment for that class is less than the required minimum, usually four students, unless the instructor agrees to teach with fewer students enrolled. In the event of cancellation of a class, students will be permitted to enroll in another class provided the instructor of that class can orient the students as to the instruction he or she may have missed. A full refund of the tuition paid for the cancelled class will be made if the student does not succeed in enrolling in another class he or she needs.

Commencement

Commencement exercises are held at the end of the spring semester each year. All students who are eligible to receive degrees are expected to be present at the ceremony. A student unable to attend the ceremony must (unless he or she has completed the requirements for the degree by the end of the fall semester) petition the faculty for permission to receive the degree in absentia, giving the reason for the inability to attend.

Any student who anticipates graduating in the annual spring commencement MUST consult with his or her program advisor in the fall semester prior to the projected graduation date, to determine whether he or she will have all requirements for graduation completed by the end of the spring semester. He or she must also make an appointment with the Vice President of Academics no later than the second Monday of November to confirm that he or she will be able to complete all program requirements for graduation.

Students who plan to graduate must apply for inclusion in the commencement events no later than the last business day of the second week of classes in the spring semester in which they are planning to graduate. Applications for graduation are available from the Registrar's office at the beginning of the spring term, and should be obtained early in order to secure required signatures and submit the form by the due date (see Academic Calendar).

To cover the costs of graduation, including cap and gown rental, sharing of exercises location rental, and other items, including $25.00 as the first year's dues for the Alumni Association, a graduation fee of $125.00 is assessed each graduating student, which is due by March 15, or the last business day prior to that.

Prospective graduates must pay all debts to the Seminary no later than the last business day of the week prior to final exam week, in order to participate in the commencement exercise. Neither a diploma nor a final transcript will be released for a student until his or her final obligations to the Seminary are met in full.

Graduate students must have their thesis, project or dissertation signed as completed no later than the last business day of the second week of April.

Policy for Issuing Official Transcripts

Official transcripts will be sent upon request from the student directly to the receiving institution or entity. There is a charge of $10.00 per official transcript issued, payable by the student making the request. An unofficial transcript will be emailed to a student upon request at no charge.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

All the academic programs of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, whether certificate or degree, are designed to be completed in a prescribed period of time. However, that time period is determined as the minimum, given the credits required for each program. Students who take courses on a part-time basis will necessarily have to extend these periods.

Should students find it necessary to withdraw from programs to which they have been admitted before they have completed such programs, it is necessary to be formally readmitted if the lapse in matriculation is longer than two years. Such students will be able to retain credit for the work that had been done prior to the time they withdrew, but they will be admitted under the catalog current at their readmittance.

Ordinarily, the graduate programs cannot be extended beyond five years for the MA degrees, six years for the MDiv degree, and seven years for the DMin degree. Permission to extend these limits must be obtained in advance of their expiration from the Vice President of Academics.

Student Leave of Absence

A student who wishes to take a leave of absence, with the expectation of resuming his or her studies at a future pre-defined time, must first apply, through the Registrar's office, to the Academic Dean for permission to do so, in order to be excused from the normal reentrance requirements.

Continuing Matriculation Requirement

Students admitted to a masters and doctoral level program must maintain matriculation until that degree is completed, by enrolling for one credit hour of CGM 6001 in any fall or spring semester in which they do not take classes. For those programs requiring a master's thesis or a doctoral dissertation, after the required course work is completed, the student will enroll in TRW 6971 for one credit hour, at the masters or doctoral tuition rate, for each fall and spring semester until their thesis or project is completed.

Union of Messianic Jewish Congregations (UMJC) Requirements for:

Madrikh (Licensure) and S'micha (Ordination)

Do you wish to prepare for Messianic Jewish ministry? Are you already involved through your local synagogue? One vital resource is the madrikh (licensure) program through the Union of Messianic Jewish Congregations (UMJC.). It helps to prepare and advance men and Women in their work for Messiah's kingdom. Whether you are a congregational leader, a zakeyn / elder, a shammash, or a committee volunteer in the local synagogue, this program is a post-graduate training and development curriculum designed to enhance your leadership role in Messianic synagogues and ministries. It is the first step toward ordination or s'micha, and a valuable credential in its own right.

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is one of three schools approved by the UMJC to provide this training. A student may enroll in the seminary to take courses locally, or to take distance courses, which may be started at any time. These courses help men and women to prepare for leadership positions in Messianic synagogues and congregations. They have to be taken at the graduate level, and may be taken as part of a graduate degree program, or simply to satisfy UMJC requirements. If taken to satisfy UMJC requirements, the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva offers neither a certificate nor a degree. The Seminary is not and cannot be an ordaining body.

Madrikh (Licensure)

Madrikh (licensure) is the first step toward s'micha (ordination). A candidate for madrikh is required to complete a total of ten courses in addition to a commitment to read through the entire Bible twice and pass an oral examination in scriptural proficiency. The end result for a student enrolled within our program is licensure as a madrikh by the UMJC.

UMJC S'micha (Ordination)

The second step beyond the madrikh program is especially designed for those seeking full-time Messianic rabbinic ministry. All madrikh courses apply toward attaining S'micha (ordination), and additional graduate course work and internship are required as well. Those who complete the Seminary's program will meet the academic requirements for ordination with the UMJC. A student who has completed madrikh requirements may continue their studies in order to receive s'micha through the UMJC.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Bachelor of Arts Degree

The Bachelor of Arts degree program is open to students with at least sixty hours of study in general education, or an AA degree, from an accredited institution. Students may enroll in the program with credit deficiencies, but will be required to obtain the needed semester hours before becoming candidates for the degree. (As an illustration: one who has no college work may desire to enroll. If he or she takes at least one half of his work at the nearby St. Petersburg College, this would permit the student to complete the BA program in four years or less.) The curriculum leading to the degree is one of rigorous study and scholarship. The student must demonstrate an aptitude for learning and be disciplined for research projects and studies in Biblical languages. The program of study will provide students with the tools necessary to accomplish the following:

1. Deal effectively with the sacred Scriptures and be able to defend them in matters of interpretation, historical data, and general matters of theological content.
2. Study the sacred Scriptures as a beginning scholar, from the original Greek in the New Testament and with some understanding of the problems of the Old Testament translations, applying the principles to their present-day situations.
3. Actively engage in roles of lay leadership in congregation-related tasks, or serve as clergy in independent churches or synagogues (recognizing that their educational background may not be adequate to serve as effectively as they want).
4. Serve as peers among their contemporaries in our present society, enabled through their study to serve effectively in the community of religious workers, missionaries and evangelists.
5. Continue toward an advanced degree, i.e., enter graduate school in the area of biblical studies.

The Master of Divinity Degree

Students who hold a BA degree, or its equivalent, from an accredited institution receive the degree of Master of Divinity (MDiv) upon completion of the prescribed program. At least three years of full-time study is required. The purpose of this program is to prepare students for the gospel ministry and to enable them to meet the ecclesiastical requirements for ordination within the communion of their own denominational relationship. The Seminary is not and cannot be an ordaining body. Students are advised to contact their denomination in advance of matriculation to determine the specific requirements.

The Master of Rabbinics Degree

The Master of Rabbinics Degree is available only through the Netzer David International Yeshiva. Please see page 37.

The Master of Arts Degrees

Students who hold the BA degree or its equivalent from an accredited institution receive the Master of Arts (MA) degree upon completion of the prescribed program. These programs are designed to be completed in at least two years of full-time course work. The MA degree is offered in Biblical Studies or Judaic Studies. These programs are designed to meet the needs of men and women who desire either a Bible-related professional education for various callings in ministry, or as preparation for advanced study in religion.

Master's Thesis, Survey Research or Basic Research Requirement: A Master's thesis is required for each MA. When the student is ready to begin the research and writing of the Master's thesis, survey research project, or basic research project, he or she will register for the Master's thesis writing course, TRW 6973, Thesis Writing, which is the same for all areas of study.

However, since it generally takes more than one semester to complete the thesis or project, after the student has completed the required courses for that degree program and TRW 6973, he or she will continue to register for 1 credit hour of Master's thesis/survey research continuation, TRW 6971, each fall and spring term until the thesis or project and all other requirements are completed (see pg. 20, "Continuing Matriculation Requirement").

Minimum Total Required Hours: The minimum total number of credit hours for the master's degree programs varies from 36 to 45, including 3 credit hours for the thesis or project, but exclusive of the master's thesis matriculation continuation credits (see previous paragraph).

Certificate Program

The Certificate in Religious Studies is an undergraduate program of 24 credits (it may also be taken at the graduate level for graduate credit). Students may concentrate in Biblical Studies or Judaic Studies, or a combination of these, all based on a 9-credit core. See page 34 for a detailed outline of the options in this certificate.

The Doctor of Ministry Degree

The Doctor of Ministry degree program is designed to provide ministry analysis, guidance, and training to increase ministerial competency. The study programs seek to provide direction in Biblical Studies and Judaic Studies.

The Netzer David International Yeshiva

The Yeshiva focuses on the Seminary's commitment to and continuity with ancient Jewish tradition and heritage, and the answer to the centuries-old longing for the coming of the Messiah, now fulfilled by Yeshua. It offers in-depth education to enable Messianic Jewish leaders to stand within Judaism and among the Jewish people.

The Yeshiva offers four degree programs that equip students to take various leadership and ministry roles in Messianic Jewish congregations, and to sensitively and effectively interact with rabbis and others from within the Jewish community. These are the Bachelor of Arts in Judaic Studies, the Master of Arts in Judaic Studies, the Master of Rabbinic Studies, and the Doctor of Ministry (see pages 25).

Periodic Review of Courses and Programs

Every course and degree program is reviewed by the Curriculum and Instruction Committee at least every third year to determine its continued relevance for our students. Courses and programs may be revised as needed. Such changes will take effect in the next catalog. Courses may be deleted if they have not been taught for five years, and if there is also no prospect that they might be taught in the ensuing five years. A certificate or degree program may be discontinued or combined with another program if it is no longer serving our constituency in its current form. Deletion or substantive changes in programs are reported to the State of Florida's Commission for Independent Education.

On Line and Correspondence Courses

The Seminary offers many of its courses not only onsite in its classrooms, but also live online through platforms such as Webex and Dropbox. Courses are also offered by correspondence/distance. Correspondence/distance courses are made available through DVDs and/or online platforms such as Vimeo and Dropbox. The courses offered in this fashion are structured the same as courses onsite. Course syllabi, outlines and handouts, such as those distributed in the classroom, are delivered through Dropbox or DVD, as are the audio and video teaching presentations of the respective courses. Materials for correspondence/distance courses are sent to the student by USPS or email, depending on the student's needs. Students are provided with the email address of the assigned professor, who in turn is provided with the names and email address of the registered students. The students are required to submit the course assignments electronically or by mail. Distance course work is evaluated and credited in the same manner as the onsite version of the course.

DEGREE PROGRAM COURSE CONTENT

Bachelor of Arts Degree in Biblical Studies

The BA in Biblical Studies (BABS) is one of two undergraduate degrees currently offered at St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva. The required courses are not available yet available online nor via correspondence/distance learning. Students will either have already completed the first two years of undergraduate classes prior to beginning at the Seminary (an AA or its equivalent) or will work with an advisor to complete the first two years elsewhere while work is being done at the Seminary. A recommended program of the requirements is illustrated here.

First two years: an AA degree or its equivalent, 60 credits (see p. 12 for definition of AA Equivalency).

* CJS 3003, Introduction to Judaism: Judaism 101, is prerequisite for BIE 4823, Biblical Hermeneutics, BST 3833, Biblical Messianic Apologetics, and all CJS (Judaic Studies) courses, unless exempted by instructor permission, examination, or prior applicable course work. If it is exempted these 3 credit hours will be used for an additional open elective course.

 Open electives are courses to be chosen from at least three departments and under the direction of the student's advisor.

Bachelor of Arts in Judaic Studies

The Bachelor of Arts in Judaic Studies degree program consists of 66 credits beyond the general education program or associate's degree (AA - 60 crs), for a total of 126 semester cr. hrs. The required courses are available live on site, online, and via correspondence/distance learning.

Students who wish to may earn their degree through the Netzer David International Yeshiva do so by focusing their elective courses on the history and background of Judaism. To do this, it is essential to consult with the Rosh of the Netzer David International Yeshiva. There is a great deal of flexibility, but it is important to plan in advance (See Netzer David International Yeshiva on page 36)

Course requirements for the BA in Judaic Studies are:

A. Prerequisite Course (3 crs.)

CJS 3003	Introduction to Judaism: Judaism 101*	3 cr.

* CJS 3003, Introduction to Judaism: Judaism 101 is prerequisite for BIB 4823, Biblical Hermeneutics, BST 3833, Biblical Messianic Apologetics, and all CJS (Judaic Studies) courses, unless exempted by instructor permission, examination, or prior applicable course work. If this course is required it will count as one of the two elective courses.

B. Course in the Area of Bible and Judaic Studies (30 crs.)

30 credit hours chosen from the following courses:

BOT 3503	Old Testament Survey	3 cr.

Field Experience a Necessary Supplement to the Master of Divinity Program

The MDiv degree program is designed to emphasize the parish ministry. Therefore, those skills that are needed for the care and discipleship of God's people are learned not only in the classroom, but also in field experience. While not carrying academic credit, it is important for students to work with their advisor to include various field service applications in parish ministry or ministries that are extensions of the parish ministry, e.g., hospital, hospice care, personal counseling, mentoring, etc.

Master of Arts in Biblical Studies

The MA in Biblical Studies (MABS) is an academic degree designed to enhance scholarship in biblical studies and prepares men and women to provide congregational leadership as teachers or elders, to teach Bible in a Christian or synagogue school, or to prepare for, doctoral study to teach in higher education institutions. This program is not currently available online nor via correspondence/distance learning.

Master's Thesis Requirement: A Master's thesis is required for each MA. When the student is ready to begin the research and writing of the Master's thesis, he or she will register for the Master's thesis writing course, TRW 6973, Thesis Writing and Research Design, which is the same for all areas of study.

However, since it generally takes more than one semester to complete the thesis or project, after the student has completed the required courses for that degree program and TRW 6973, he or she will continue to register for 1 credit hour of Master's thesis/survey research continuation, TRW 6971, each fall and spring term until the thesis or project and all other requirements are completed (see pg. 21, "Continuing Matriculation Requirement").

Course requirements for the MA in Biblical Studies are:

A. Prerequisite Course Requirements: (30 crs., as needed, in addition to the requirements in Parts B or C)

TRW 6973	Thesis Writing and Research Design	3 cr.

Total: 33 crs.

* If either or both of these language courses were taken as an undergraduate, the Intermediate year or an advanced exegesis course should be taken to total 12 credits of graduate language study.

The Master of Arts Degree in Judaic Studies

The Master of Arts in Judaic Studies program consists of a total of 45 semester cr. hrs. The required courses are available live on site, online, and via correspondence/distance learning.

The MA in Judaic Studies (MAJS) is an academic degree designed to assist men and women who desire to learn more about our Jewish heritage in order to serve as lay leaders in Messianic Jewish congregations, or other ministries, to teach in a Christian or synagogue school, or to prepare for doctoral study to teach in higher educational institutions. This program is similar to that offered through the Netzer David International Yeshiva, described on page 36 of this catalog.

Master's Thesis Requirement: A Master's thesis is required for each MA. When the student is ready to begin the research and writing of the Master's thesis, he or she will register for the Master's thesis writing course, TRW 6973, Thesis Writing and Research Design, which is the same for all areas of study.

However, since it generally takes more than one semester to complete the thesis or project, after the student has completed the required courses for that degree program and TRW 6973, he or she will continue to register for 1 credit hour of Master's thesis/survey research continuation, TRW 6971, each fall and spring term until the thesis or project and all other requirements are completed (see pg. 21, "Continuing Matriculation Requirement").

Course requirements for the MA in Judaic Studies are:

A. Prerequisite Course Requirements: (21 crs. as needed)

Doctor of Ministry Program

The Doctor of Ministry program consists of a total of 36 semester cr. hrs. All necessary courses are available live on site, online, and via correspondence/distance learning.

If you have been looking for an evangelical trans-denominational Doctor of Ministry Degree program that emphasizes the Jewish foundations of the Bible, is taught by a well-credentialed, experienced and caring faculty, at a seminary compassionate fee schedule geared to those in ministry, you have come to the right place. The DMin program is offered to qualified men and women currently engaged in ministry. The Seminary is here to serve you, and it is our goal to help you reach your full ministry potential.

Philosophy of the Program

The quality and success of the several ministries represented in the Seminary's DMin program are usually largely determined by one's communication skills, both oral and written. It is the task of the DMin program to assist students to so craft their spiritual gifts, in writing, speaking, and other leadership abilities, that they may be able to serve with distinction.

Objectives of the Doctoral Program

This individualized program provides the student with the ability to do the following:

- 1) Demonstrate an advanced understanding and integration of ministry in relation to biblical, historical, theological and professional disciplines;
- 2) Articulate a comprehensive and critical theory of ministry and apply that theory to his/her specific leadership;
- 3) Explore new ministry perspectives;
- 4) Evaluate his or her own ministry and ministry skills;
- 5) Clarify his or her vision and crystallize his or her understanding of why he or she is in ministry; and,
- 6) Demonstrate skills, competencies, and compassion that are required for the practice of ministry at its most mature and effective level. These skills and competencies include abilities in Biblical exposition, communication, administration, research and writing, and personal relationship.

Program Advantages

Because the Seminary is a small school, the student can benefit from a personalized curriculum taught in a family-like atmosphere. The Seminary's program fosters personal attention to student development, and as such, local area students can get to know each other well and their instructors as mentors in the learning process.

The DMin program at St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva includes use of the tutorial model. The main features of the tutorial model are these: 1) it provides the greatest level of flexibility for adapting to different kinds of ministry programs, 2) it provides the flexibility distance students need, and 3) the student's personal advisor will be there to guide him or her in every step of the way. Under the tutorial model the student and his or her advisor will develop an individualized program, including determination as to what credits may be transferred into the program and / or what extra courses may be needed. This means that by utilizing the tutorial model, the DMin program will be uniquely tailored to the student's needs and interests.

Conditions of Enrollment

Consecutive, continuous enrollment is required until all doctoral study is completed and all graduation requirements are fulfilled. Students complete the program at their own pace but are required to pay for a minimum of 36 credits and be continuously enrolled for at least 24 months. Students who take longer are responsible for continuous enrollment by registering for one continuing matriculation credit (TRW 6971) each fall and spring term, at the doctoral tuition rate, through the last term in which all graduation requirements are fulfilled and academic materials are received in the office in final form (see p. 18, "Continuing Matriculation Requirement"). The deadline date for the receipt of all fully approved final evaluations, documents, and program requirements is mid-April (see Academic Calendar) in order to graduate in May (adjustments to this schedule may be made for distance students). The actual time required to complete the program depends on the student's background and the amount of time devoted to studies (assuming all required courses are taken as they are offered).

Admission and Requirements of the DMin Degree Program

Admission Requirements: In addition to satisfying the Seminary's regular admission requirements (items 4, 5, & 6 below), the DMin applicant normally must possess:

1. A recognized Master of Divinity degree or equivalent (see NOTE below);
2. A 3.0 minimum grade point average, with evidence of potential for work at the doctoral level, including the submission of three previously completed graduate level papers to demonstrate the applicant's ability to write on the post-graduate level;
3. Involvement in three years of full-time experience in an appropriate ministry, positively evaluated by the applicant's peers, with the applicant normally being a minimum of 30 years of age at the time of admission;
4. The completion of application forms and payment of the required admission fee;
5. Submission of three references from his or her pastor or rabbi, or ministerial colleague or supervisor, a former teacher and a general reference;
6. Submission of official transcripts for all post-secondary college and graduate studies.

NOTE: "MDiv equivalency" is defined as:

Note 1: A student who does not have an MDiv from an accredited institution, and desires to work toward MDiv equivalency, must first enroll in the MDiv program, as he or she pursues "equivalency."

Note 2: An MRS degree from Netzer David International Yeshiva is equivalent to the MDiv.

1. MDiv equivalency includes, in general, the courses required in the MDiv program, or courses with equivalent content, totaling 72 cr. hrs., plus 6 cr. hrs. of the Biblical languages, N.T. Greek or O.T. Hebrew. The student's adviser will determine for which MDiv required courses the particular program courses may be substituted.
2. For a DMin in Biblical Studies:
 - a. An applicant who already has 48 cr. hrs. in biblical / theological studies, including 6 cr. hrs. in the Biblical languages, and any other graduate prerequisite courses not already taken (see

- p.25), is required to add 30 cr. hrs. of Biblical Studies courses at the graduate level, (for a total of 78 cr. hrs.), to attain MDiv equivalency.
- b. An applicant with a master's degree in Biblical Studies (36 cr. hrs.) must complete all of the graduate prerequisite courses (up to 30 cr. hrs., see p. 23), substituting others, approved by the student's adviser, for those already taken, plus 2 more courses, approved by the student's adviser, as well as 6 cr. hrs. of a biblical language (for a total of 78 cr. hrs.), to attain MDiv equivalency.
3. For a DMin in Judaic Studies:
 - a. An applicant who already has 48 cr. hrs. in Judaic and/or biblical studies (undergraduate and graduate), including 6 cr. hrs. in the Biblical languages, is required to take the master's level prerequisite courses not already taken (see p. 23), plus additional Judaic and / or biblical studies courses at the graduate level, in consultation with his or her advisor, to total 75 cr. hrs., to attain MDiv equivalency.
 - b. An applicant with a master's degree in Judaic (45 cr. hrs.) and/or biblical (36 cr. hrs.) studies, must complete all of the graduate prerequisite courses not already taken (see p. 23), plus additional courses in Judaic and/or biblical studies, in consultation with his or her advisor, to total 78 cr. hrs., to attain MDiv equivalency.

Course Prerequisites for the DMin Program:

1. A minimum of six credits in the biblical languages, Greek and/or Hebrew. This derives from the requirement to have an MDiv or the equivalent;
2. CJS 3/5513 Tanakh: The Beginnings of the Jewish People (= CJS 3/5313 Jewish Roots and Foundations of Scripture, I), 3 credits;*
3. CJS 3/5523 The Apostolic Writings: The Early Messianic Jewish Community (= CJS 3/5323 Jewish Roots and Foundations of Scripture, II) 3 credits;*
 *Note: Non-St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva graduates entering the Doctor of Ministry program will be required to take these two courses as their first of five required areas of research. Doctoral students taking these classes will be required to do additional research beyond the basic course content.
4. TRW 6973 Thesis Writing and Research Design, 3 credits This course is an introduction to the tools of research. Students will learn to organize their materials into a coherent and usable whole in order to be able to write effectively. The student and area professor will design the Master's thesis, project or doctoral dissertation. It should be designed to meet the interests of the student.

The Design of the Degree Program

The St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva DMin program is designed to provide ministry analysis, guidance and training to increase ministerial competency. The study program seeks to provide direction in four ministry areas: Research / Writing, Bible-based communication, Administration / Leadership, and Personal Development.

When the applicant is notified of his or her acceptance into the DMin program he or she will be assigned a faculty advisor whose credentials and expertise best match the student's interests. Each student will write a proposal paper describing the problem statement, the precedent literature, the methodology, how findings will be handled, and possible conclusions and recommendations toward which the study is directed. The student in consultation with his or her assigned faculty adviser will design a program consisting of five areas of study of six credits each, each with a research component, and the dissertation or research project. Keep in mind the goal: the completed work will make a new application of the current theory in the major field.

Doctoral Candidacy

Admission to the DMin program is not acceptance into candidacy for the degree. The student will be recognized as a candidate for the degree only after the successful completion of the five six-hour courses (30 credits) with a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or above, the completion of any entrance deficiencies, and the recommendation of the faculty. A candidate must display proficiency in the integration of course work and demonstrate the ability to complete the degree requirements with evidence of writing skills appropriate to doctoral level work.

Maintaining Matriculation for the DMin Degree

Consecutive, continuous enrollment is required until all doctoral study is completed and all graduation requirements are fulfilled. Students complete the program at their own pace but are required to pay for a minimum of 36 credits and to be continuously enrolled for a minimum of 24 months. Students who need more time to complete their dissertation or project are required to maintain continuous enrollment by registering for one credit hour (TRW 6971), at the doctoral tuition rate, for each fall or spring term until all graduation requirements are fulfilled and academic materials are received in the office in final form. No more than 9 matriculation continuation credits may be accumulated and these credits do replace any other requirement of the doctoral program.

DMin Courses

1. If the student is required to complete CJS 3/5513 Tanakh: The Beginnings of the Jewish People (= CJS 3/5313 Jewish Roots and Foundations of Scripture, I), and CJS 5523, The Apostolic Writings: The Early Messianic Jewish Community, these constitute one block of 6 cr. hrs., paid at the doctoral tuition rate.
2. Depending on the area of study for the dissertation, the student will then enroll in one of the following courses, either 4 (if Jewish Roots I and II are taken) or 5 times successively, to accumulate a total of 30 cr. hrs.
3. The student will then enroll in DDP 8006 (6 cr. hrs.) to write the dissertation. However, since it generally takes more than one semester to complete the dissertation, after the student has completed the required courses he or she will continue to register for 1 credit hour of TRW 6971 for one credit hour, at the doctoral tuition rate, for each fall and spring semester until their dissertation and all other requirements are completed (see pg. 21, "Continuing Matriculation Requirement").

The DMin course listings are:

CJS	8910	Doctoral Tutorial in Judaic Studies	6 credits, repeatable
		Directed independent research on some aspect of the field of Judaic Studies. Limited to doctoral and advanced students, subject to the consent of the professor, and may only be repeated by matriculated doctoral students.
BIE	8910	Doctoral Tutorial in Biblical Studies	6 credits, repeatable

CJS	8911	Doctoral Tutorial in Rabbinics	6 credits, repeatable
		Directed independent research on some aspect of the field of Rabbinics. Limited to doctoral and advanced students, subject to the consent of the professor, and may only be repeated by matriculated doctoral students.

Certificate in Religious Studies

A certificate in Religious Studies will be awarded upon successful completion of twenty-four (24) credit hours, to include courses in the areas of biblical studies, Judaic studies, religious education, or a combination of these. All required courses are available on site, live on line, and via correspondence/distance courses. A certificate-seeking student holds regular student status and must follow the regular admission procedures required for degree-seeking students, except that prior college-level work is not required if the student has a high school diploma or its equivalent and demonstrates aptitude for college work. The certificate may also be taken at the graduate level for graduate credit.

Intermediate completion certificates will be given to students taking courses for the Certificate program to encourage them in their pursuit as follows: a "Silver Certificate" for one completed course, a "Gold Certificate" for three courses, a "Platinum Certificate" for 6 courses, and a "Diamond Certificate" for 8 courses.

Furthermore, as an incentive for any student who completes the Certificate in Religious Studies and decides to pursue another degree program, that student will receive 1/3 off the tuition for the first new course taken for the new program.

General Requirements: (9 crs.)

CJS	3313, 3323	Jewish Roots & Foundations of Scripture I, II	6 cr.
BIE	4823	Biblical Hermeneutics, OR	3 cr.
BST	3833	Biblical/Messianic Apologetics

Biblical Studies Concentration: (15 crs.)

BOT	3503	Old Testament Survey	3 cr.
BOT	3603	New Testament Survey	3 cr.
BIE, BNT, BOT		Electives in Biblical Studies	9 cr.

Judaic Studies Concentration: (15 crs.)

BNT	3503	Old Testament Survey	3 cr.
CJS	3773	New Testament Survey	3 cr.
CJS		Electives in Judaic Studies	9 cr.

Combination Track (15 crs.): Those who wish to take courses in more than one concentration may plan with their advisor a specific course of study combining required and elective courses to suit their interests.

Cantorial Arts Concentration: (30 crs.)

The Cantorial Arts program provides the opportunity for aspiring cantors to be trained, or for any singer already in service to increase his or her skills to become a professionally certified cantor.

A Students in the program will:

1. Study as part of an online class environment with a highly experienced, professionally certified cantor and teacher.
2. Master the chanting of Torah, Haftarah, and the Newer Testament.
3. Expand their knowledge of prayers sung for Shabbat, holidays and festivals.
4. Become a skilled officiant at life cycle events.

5. Deepen their knowledge of and experience with Jewish musical traditions, liturgy and history. Graduates will be equipped to incorporate Jewish tradition with the Renewed Covenant, in a way that will exalt Yeshua the Messiah within the service.

Prerequisites: The following are the prerequisites for persons who wish to enter the program:

1. an above average singing voice, along with the ability to learn melody lines of written music, whether by sight singing or playing an instrument,
2. the ability to read basic Hebrew with vowel markings.

Applicants are required to submit a digital recording of their singing voice for approval, prior to being accepted into the program.

Relationship to the Seminary Curriculum:

1. Prospective students for the Cantorial Arts program will follow the regular enrollment procedures of the Seminary and Yeshiva. Download required forms from the Prospective Students page on the website (www.sptseminary.edu).
2. Since the instructor lives in Israel, the program will be taught by distance via Web ex, on a schedule to be determined by the instructor in consultation with the prospective students.
3. The program will be taught in six 8-week sessions over two academic years. The starting date is during the fall term of 2016.
4. The program may be taken for a Certificate in Cantorial Arts of 28 credit hours, at the Certificate tuition rate (see the Course Registration Form, downloadable from the Seminary and Yeshiva's website).
5. The program also may be taken as a major area of concentration in the Master of Arts in Judaic Studies degree program, as the elective hours for that degree, at the graduate tuition rate. (See the Catalog under Academics on the website.)
6. In addition to the specific Cantorial Arts courses, the certificate program requires students to take two distance courses:
 - a. CJS 3/5313 Tanakh: The Beginnings of the Jewish People (3 credits), and
 - b. CJS 3/5323 The Apostolic Writings: The Early Messianic Jewish Community (3 credits).

These are available by either audio or video. The Tanakh course should be started during the first 8-week session of the Cantorial Arts program, followed later by the second course, Apostolic Writings.

NOTE 1: Students who do not wish to pursue a Certificate may enroll to take specific courses from among those listed below, especially the various scripture chanting courses and the ones that do not require singing (as opposed to repertoire and life cycle courses). These courses do not require an "above average singing voice," only a musical ear.

NOTE 2: Students who do not wish to pursue a Certificate may request to enroll as auditors with permission from the instructor. They would have to do the work assignments but would not receive academic credit for the Certificate or for the degree program.

Learning Objectives:

Students will:

1. Be able to discern how to incorporate musical ideas into their own work,
2. Experience teaching the congregation during a service and include the new items in the musical variety of the services,
3. Incorporate chanting Torah, Haftarah and Brit Chadasha in public and executing the various musical components of the Shabbat service in a manner befitting a professional cantor.
4. Officiate at Jewish life cycle events.

Schedule:

The Cantorial courses will be taught two at a time, in the order in which they are listed, in six 8-week sessions, covering two academic years. Each course will meet for 2 hours per week, for a total of 16 hours per course over the 8 weeks.

1. The first 8-week session will be taught from mid-October through mid-December of the fall semester of year one of the program.
2. Sessions 2 and 3 will be taught during the spring semester of year one.
3. Session 4 will be taught in the fall semester of year two of the program.,
4. Sessions 5 and 6 will be taught during the spring semester of year two.
5. The two courses, CJS 3/5313 Tanakh: The Beginnings of the Jewish People, and CJS 3/5323 The Apostolic Writings: The Early Messianic Jewish Community, will be taken as distance courses at the beginning of and during the student's participation in the Cantorial program.

The Netzer David International Yeshiva Program

Taking its lead from Rabbi Yitzhak Lichtenstein, the Netzer David International Yeshiva, a Messianic Jewish school, focuses on a commitment to and continuity with our ancient Jewish traditions and heritage, and highlights the answer to the centuries-old longing of the Jewish people for the coming of the Messiah, now fulfilled by Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth).

Therefore, it offers in-depth training to enable Messianic Jewish leaders to stand within Judaism and among the Jewish people. The Yeshiva equips its students to take various leadership and ministry roles in Messianic Jewish synagogues and ministries, and to sensitively and effectively interact with rabbis and others from within the Jewish community.

The Yeshiva also serves the Christian community. Taking seriously the teaching of Romans 11:11-24, the courses offered explore the rich Jewish backgrounds and context of the biblical text. Appreciating the Jewish perspective of the Bible will enable Christians to enrich their faith and deepen their understanding of the Scriptures as they tap into the Jewish roots of their beliefs.

As the late Dr. David Flusser of Hebrew University in Jerusalem expressed it: "Jewish thought is not—as it often claimed—merely a background for Jesus but is in reality the original context and natural framework of his message."

Studies include semester-long courses and the occasional holy land tour. These are offered within the academic structure of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, an association of St. Petersburg Theological Seminary and the Netzer David International Yeshiva.

Students from both of these institutions enjoy the same status of licensure by the State of Florida Commission for Independent Education, due to their constituting the institutional composition of the Seminary.

The Bachelor of Arts Degree in Biblical Studies may be taken through the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva or the Netzer David International Yeshiva. Information on the program may be found in this catalog beginning on page 24.

The Master of Arts Degree in Judaic Studies may also be taken through the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva or the Netzer David International Yeshiva. Information on the program may be found in this catalog beginning on page 25.

Master of Rabbinic Studies Degree

The Master of Rabbinic Studies degree program consists of 75 credits beyond a bachelor's degree with a major in Judaic studies. Otherwise the lack of prerequisite courses (up to 24 credits, see "A" immediately below) must be made up in addition to the courses required for this program. Courses are selected with the approval of the Rosh Yeshiva from the following program. This program is designed to prepare the student to function as a rabbi in a Messianic synagogue. This program is only available through the Netzer David International Yeshiva.

Course Classification System

The courses in this catalog are identified by prefixes as follows: the subject matter area or sub-group is indicated by three letters: Biblical Interpretation and Exposition (BIE); Bible New Testament (BNT), Bible Old Testament (BOT), Bible Systematic Theology (BST), Cultural Church History (CCH), Cultural Judaic Studies (CJS), Cultural World Missions (CWM), Professional Pastoral Theology (PPT), Professional Religious Education (PRE), Professional Sacred Music (PSM), and Psychology (PSY).

The first digit indicates the level of the course: 3xxx and 4xxx numbered courses are for undergraduates, 5xxx and 6xxx or higher, are for graduate students. 5xxx courses, while open to undergraduate students with approval of the area head and instructor, are considered first-year graduate-level courses with graduate-level expectations stipulated in the Course Curriculum Guide for each course. In the course listing, if a course is offered for both undergraduate and graduate credit, the number will be written 3/5xxx or 4/6xxx to indicate at which level each credit is earned. A student will use the number that corresponds with his or her level. The second digit may indicate the frequency with which the course is offered. The third digit is used at the discretion of the area. The fourth digit indicates the number of credit hours of the course.

While some courses are offered annually, most are offered every two or three years or on demand. The anticipated frequency is set forth in what is referred to as the "three-year cycle of courses." This is reviewed annually and serves as a guide for the scheduling of courses to serve the needs of the various degree programs, and the student body. A copy of the three-year schedule may be obtained from the Registrar. The Seminary may, or may not, offer courses for which fewer than 5 students are registered, though even in these cases it may be possible to arrange individual study for those who need particular courses.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES AND COURSE LISTINGS

The seminary-wide course objectives are: 1) to advance the seminary's distinctives; 2) to educate the whole person through rigorous and disciplined instruction; and, 3) to promote cross-cultural and intrad denominational understanding by majoring on the majors and minoring on the minors in the contemporary theological setting.

Course listings are grouped in three areas: 1) research, writing and continuation courses; 2) academic concentration course listings; and, 3) professional concentration course listings, with related sub-groupings. Students with a professional concentration will be required to take a certain number of academic concentration courses dependent upon their particular program of study and vice versa. The statement of goals and objectives for each major area and their sub-groupings are listed in the appropriate places throughout the course listings.

6. Termination Date: In calculating the refund due to a student, the last date of actual attendance by the student is used in calculation.
7. Refunds will be made within 30 days of termination of student's enrollment, or receipt of a Withdrawal Form from the student.

REGISTRATION ADVISEMENT

Each semester the Office of Registration administers registration days for faculty and students. These days are designed to assist students in selecting the correct courses for their programs and to give opportunity for further faculty advisory contact.

In connection with these events, the Office of Student Development conducts an orientation. The fall semester orientation is designed for all students, both new and returning, while the spring semester orientation is designed primarily for new students.

Students desiring to register for directed research courses or for courses which have conflicting class hours must obtain a petition from the Registrar, make arrangement with the faculty members involved in advance, and submit the completed and signed petition to the Registrar at the time of registration.

Students may add or drop courses between the first and second meeting of the class in which he or she wants to enroll, if the instructor gives written consent (see p. 17, "Registration and Attendance"). No student who has unpaid financial obligations to the Seminary will be permitted to register for course work. Students are expected to attend every class session for which they are registered.

Absences caused by illness or other justifiable causes will be permitted to a limited extent. If permitted absences endanger the student's standing in the course, the instructor shall counsel the student concerning the situation. Further absences may result in a failing grade in the course.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT SERVICES, POLICIES & ACTIVITIES

The Seminary has a Department of Student Services which is set up to enhance the educational, social, spiritual, moral, psychological and physical development of the individual student. The following services are currently available at Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva:

1. Post-graduation placement is not guaranteed, but placement opportunities will be posted, as these become available to the Office.
2. Practical experience opportunities at local churches and synagogues.
3. Referral for assistance in personal and mental health counseling.

INCOMPLETE POLICY

In the event that a student for good cause agreed upon with the instructor cannot complete the work assigned for the course, the instructor may apply a grade of I (incomplete), accompanied by a signed Incomplete Make-Up Agreement Form (see below).

If an I is assigned, the incomplete work will be expected to be completed by the end of the following grading period, that is, an I given in the fall semester will be made up by the end of the following spring semester, an I given for the spring Semester will be made up by the end of the following summer before the fall classes begin, and an I given in the summer term will be made up by the end of following fall semester.

In the event the incomplete work has not been finished in the agreed upon time, the student, with the concurrence of his or her instructor, may appeal once to the degree program director for an extension of time, only for extenuating circumstances. However, in no case will the I be carried beyond one year past the time it was assigned. It will then be changed to an F for that course.

The Incomplete Make-Up Agreement Form may be obtained from the Registrar (see copy below).

Incomplete Makeup Agreement Form: If an Incomplete (I) is to be assigned, the instructor and the student will complete and sign this agreement, and file copies with the degree program director and the Registrar. It shall be the student's responsibility to complete the outstanding work in the time agreed upon, or to communicate with the instructor in a timely fashion if he or she encounters difficulty in doing so. An I will only be entered on the student's transcript when accompanied by this signed agreement form. It is the instructor's responsibility to turn in the original of the signed form with the grade.

St. Petersburg Theological Seminary
Incomplete Make Up Agreement

Grading Policy: It is the policy of the Seminary to leave to the teachers to define in their syllabi the ways that grades in their courses are to be earned. The meaning of the grades assigned is the following: A (excellent), B (commendable), C (satisfactory), D (unsatisfactory), and F (failure).

In the event that a student for good cause agreed upon with the instructor cannot complete the work assigned for the course, the instructor may upon his or her discretion, apply a grade of "I" (incomplete).

If an "I" is to be assigned, the instructor and the student will complete and sign this agreement, and file copies with the degree program director and the Registrar. It shall be the student's responsibility to complete the outstanding work in the time agreed upon, or to communicate with the instructor in a timely fashion if he or she encounters difficulty in doing so. An "I" will only be entered on the student's transcript when accompanied by this signed agreement form. It is the instructor's responsibility to turn in the original of the signed form with the grade.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Instructors will publish in their course syllabi the attendance policy that governs the specific needs of the class. All students are required to attend classes regularly and to prepare thoroughly for the assigned tasks in each class. Failure to do this will adversely affect the ability of the student to perform adequately in class.

While class attendance is not a factor directly determining the grade earned in any class, failure to attend regularly makes it necessary for the student to contact the professor to determine materials and information missed.

Students are expected to attend every class session for which they are registered. Absences caused by illness or other justifiable causes will be permitted to a limited extent. If permitted absences endanger the student's standing in the course, the instructor shall counsel the student concerning the situation. Further absences will normally result in a failing grade in the course. Excused absences, which will be granted for extenuating circumstances only, will become a part of the student's record.

SEMINARY'S LIVING ENDOWMENT

The cost of education at St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva exceeds the tuition that students pay. As a result, it is necessary to build a broad constituency of supporters who generously give to support the Seminary's educational ministry. Most important are those who pledge to pray regularly and give financially to the Seminary.

The Living Endowment consists of those persons who regularly and systematically contribute to the financial needs of the Seminary. The program of the institution could not have been started without the few who first saw the vision and who gladly took part in it. The Seminary continues to welcome new members into this "Family" of the Seminary who desire to become partners in the ministry of training those who have heard the call of God to devote their lives to His service. It is not the intention of the Seminary to suggest an amount that the Lord may place upon his servants to give, but we urgently seek those who desire to be a part of this ministry to prayerfully give as the Lord guides them.

STUDENT SERVICES AND ACTIVITIES

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva makes the following activities and services available to its students.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Qualified faculty and staff members are available to assist students in the following ways: orientation of new students, answering administration questions, advising in the selection of programs of study and individual courses, and assisting with academic problems. Every student is assigned a faculty advisor by the Registrar. It is the student's responsibility to make an appointment at the beginning of each semester to go over the program planning sheet related to the student's chosen degree plan.

SPIRITUAL COUNSELING

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is dedicated to the philosophy that spiritual growth is an on-going process for all who have experienced God's forgiveness of sin. Spiritual growth is essential to success in every field of service. Because of this, the Seminary has selected faculty and staff who are competent spiritual leaders and who have maturity to help students in spiritual counseling.

The Seminary can refer students to appropriate professional help in the event of a need for emotional or psychological help. Of special interest to our constituency are those counselors and mental health professionals who are associated with the Network of Christian Counselors of Pinellas County. See the office for details.

SPIRITUAL AND MORAL VALUES

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva holds, as a part of the Great Commission of being a witness to the world, a high sense of commitment for the welfare of others. This is a challenge to empowerment through the promise that our Lord would be with us to the end of the Age. As such, we firmly believe that the standard, articulated in the Sermon on the Mount, that disciples are to be perfect as our heavenly father is perfect, is possible only when empowered by God's Holy Spirit.

When, therefore, we live with each other and as we live in this world, believers are to demonstrate both love and justice. First, love for each other that sacrifices to meet the needs of others, especially our brothers and sisters. This, as Yeshua said, becomes a witness to those outside his love, demonstrating that there is power to love beyond what is humanly expected. Those who want to enjoy this kind of supernatural commitment will be drawn to him through this love.

Secondly, justice is required in all our relations with those who are in this world, including those who do not yet know a new life in Yeshua. As the Older Testament prophet set out God's expectation to "do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God" (Micah 5:8), so we commit ourselves to enabling this world to see that right can be followed, whatever the cost. Individual human beings are created in God's image and as such are to be treated with the dignity and honor that such a divine imprint, however submerged in selfishness it might have become, warrants.

All the classes and activities of the Seminary, therefore, aim at assisting students, faculty, and staff both to understand and to live as witnesses of God's expectation that we treat each other with respect and concern for equality of opportunity. This equality of opportunity is in the hearing of the good news and the desire of God to be glorified in the creation.

While nature does not create individuals with equal gifts and resources, God does expect those who are called by God's name, to work toward removing all barriers dividing individuals or groups. God clearly wants us to be able to communicate just how special each of us is and how earnestly God wants us to be reconciled to each other and to our Creator.

All human relationships are to be measured by the standard that it is God who is to rule in the lives of individuals and in the affairs of nations.

While all humans take these and other virtues as marks of the highest acceptable character, the believer takes them as instruments of revealing the grace of God working in and through one's life. Thus, to these virtues Jesus added loving one's enemy, hospitality without expecting anything in turn, submission to authority when this is not in conflict with obedience to God, and when authority is confirmed to be in conflict with obedience to God, a willingness to take the consequences of disobedience as a witness to the highest moral calling for all humans everywhere.

For those who find it difficult to live in accord with the standards herein understood as the life befitting a believer, every opportunity will be given to be counseled to find peace and reconciliation, but ultimately it is the responsibility of the individual to conform as guided by these directives.

Should anyone find, even after counseling, that his or her behavior does not conform to any of these expectations, that individual may be encouraged to find more welcome association elsewhere than at the Seminary. The life of the believer is a high calling, and the Seminary exists as an instrument to assist all of its members to develop the discipline necessary to live it.

The purpose of spelling out these moral expectations is to cultivate a campus atmosphere in which moral and personal growth can thrive. This involves integrating lifestyle with biblical principles and devotion to our Messiah. It is to remove distractions from the calling each member of the Seminary family has as a servant-scholar, encouraging members of the Seminary community to see that living the life defined by the teachings of Yeshua of Nazareth is based on conscious choices rather than mere acceptance of prevailing practices in society at large. To this end we seek to create what is clearly identifiable as the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva learning environment.

HOUSING

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is a commuter institution and as such does not have dormitories. Even so, when requested, the Seminary will provide assistance in finding housing for those students who live at a distance. In order to provide such assistance, it is suggested that those desiring it contact the Office at least three months in advance of such need. Student housing on campus is not available, and students must assume that they will find housing elsewhere. Students are financially responsible for all housing.

CLASS SUPPORT AND TEXTBOOK ACQUISITION

Faculty are required at the end of each semester to inform the Registrar what textbooks are being used in the following term or semester. It is the responsibility of each student to purchase his or her own books for each class at their best source.

INTERNSHIPS AND FIELD EXPERIENCE

MDiv students are encouraged to seek out opportunities for direct involvement in pastoral internship, either in full-time or part-time capacities. Any such service must be arranged under the supervision of their academic advisor and registered if such service is for academic credit.

MA and MS students will be assisted in finding opportunities for internships in their areas of service. It should be noted that these positions do not always provide an adequate income for even minimum expenses. These are, however, a critical part of the educational process and some of the degrees require either a clinical practicum, practice teaching, or an internship. Be sure to consult with your academic advisor.

The Office of Seminary Advancement is the arm of the Seminary that has as its vision the making and keeping of as many as are called to be friends and encouragers of the ministry of the Seminary. Nothing is more important than the careful preparation of a well-educated and trained body of believers in this world. The history of the advance of the Gospel is filled with illustrations of both the success of the work of the cross and the times when it failed. Both rest on the care that the community of faith takes in making disciples of those who have responded to the call to make Yeshua as their Lord.

STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Student Services supervises the Code of Conduct. This includes working with faculty and students in putting this code in writing, orienting new students to this code, and maintaining a system of due process (see Student Handbook for details).

The office of student services holds student orientation at the beginning of each semester for all incoming students. All major issues and information needed for seminary adjustment will be covered.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Each year the Office of Student Development works with the Student Government to provide social activities that will provide interesting and organized social events for students and faculty.

SHARING INFORMATION

The Office of Student Development maintains bulletin boards so that all students will be kept informed of current happenings. Any questions regarding the function of the Office of Student Development should be addressed to the Director of Student Development.

The Seminary maintains an internet communication system. Information that is important to all the constituents of the Seminary is shared via e-mail, so please be sure that your current e-mail address is on file with the Registrar's office.

CODE OF CONDUCT

Those who are called to minister to others or to provide leadership in the faith community are called to the highest expectations of the ethical life. Yeshua placed those standards as high as the perfection of God (Matthew 6:48). While all fall short of this standard, in fact the standard itself reminds each one that the faith community is a community expressly expected to exercise the grace of God in living out the life to which believers have been called. Believers are to love God with their whole being, their neighbor as themselves, and especially each other in God's family, as testimony that they belong to the Lord of the universe.

While the Scriptures are clear about the call to live in love and that this love is a transformed love, how that is translated into action is a part of learning and living the character of one who acknowledges the Lordship of Yeshua. The believer's life, then, is guided by at least the following principles:

1. Wholehearted obedience to the moral teachings of the Bible as these are understood by the guidance of the Holy Spirit in the interaction of the believing community, allowing the discipline of the community to be an indicator of how we are to be acceptable stewards of God's gifts to each of us;
2. Open compassion for this world as the object of serving God, expressed in a commitment to justice, personal integrity, and care for truthfulness and fidelity in all areas of life, including a desire for spiritual and moral growth;
3. Full responsibility to pursue righteousness and practice justice and love mercy for everyone;
4. Unhindered participation in the worship and activities of a local congregation of believers;
5. Careful exercise of personal freedom to act responsibly in the context of God's love guiding one's regard for the sensitivities of others.

HONESTY POLICY

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a responsible manner that reflects ethics, honor, and good citizenship. They are expected to abide by the regulations of the Seminary. It is the student's responsibility to maintain academic honesty and integrity, and to manifest their commitment to the goals and standards of the Seminary through their conduct and behavior.

Academic dishonesty includes cheating, plagiarism, and any attempt to obtain credit for academic work through fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest means. Plagiarism is the presentation of someone else's ideas or work as one's own. As such, plagiarism constitutes fraud or theft. (See the Code of Conduct in the Student Handbook for a fuller statement.)

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

Students will need to have proper training for fire, hurricane, and tornado emergencies. St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva provides fire, hurricane, and tornado instructions in each hallway and classroom. The fire evacuation plan is posted in halls, offices, and classrooms. Students must make themselves familiar with all escape routes and exits.

Severe weather and crisis procedures and severe weather safe zones are posted throughout the Seminary building. Students are required to familiarize themselves with the designated safe zones and proceed to one of these areas when warning is given. The safety of all persons while on campus must be the constant concern of all members of the Seminary community. All unsafe practices must be avoided. Those failing to safeguard the health and safety of others will be reported to the Vice President of Academics. Continued unsafe practices could result in probation or dismissal. Due process, as established by law and the policies of the Seminary, will guide the institution in its proceedings.

CAMPUS SECURITY

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act ("Clery Act") requires educational institutions to provide all current and prospective students and employees with the security policies and regulations of the institution, and the statistics of crime occurrences. These security regulations are designed to ensure the safety of all individuals at St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva. All members and visitors of the campus community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that respects the rights of all within the community.

Observance of St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva regulations, as well as federal, state, and local laws, is required in order to fulfill the purposes of the educational institution. Although the institution strives to ensure a safe environment, each person must take ultimate responsibility for his or her own safety and that of his or her personal belongings.

CAMPUS SECURITY PROCEDURES

For additional information on policies and regulations, consult the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva Student Handbook or Faculty and Staff Handbooks. Policies and procedures listed are subject to change at any time without prior notice.

REPORTING A CRIME OR EMERGENCY

Any person in immediate danger due to crime or emergency should contact local police immediately by dialing 911. When the emergency has subsided, the victim should also report the crime as soon as possible to the Director of Student Development.

For non-emergency situations, any person who is a victim, witness or has knowledge of any criminal activity or other emergency on campus should report it immediately to the Director of Student Development or, during the evening hours, to his or her professor.

Persons reporting crimes will be asked to complete an incident report or witness report form, including the date, time, place, nature of the incident, names of witness, if any, and any other pertinent facts. The report should be co-signed by the Director of Student Development and sent to the President.

All reports will be investigated. The institution does not have procedures for voluntary, confidential reporting of crime statistics. Violations of the law will be referred to law enforcement agencies and, when appropriate, to the Campus Disciplinary Committee for review. When a potentially dangerous threat to the campus community arises, timely reports or warning will be issued through posting of flyers on bulletin boards and in-class announcements, by email, or other appropriate means.

CONTACT INFORMATION

1. Contact any available administrator at the seminary as soon as possible.
2. The seminary office hours vary, but a message may be left.
3. St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva phone number is 727-669-0276.
4. Office email is office.stpeteseminary@gmail.com.

SECURITY PERSONNEL

Local police have the authority to enforce all applicable regulations and laws. The Seminary staff works closely with the local and state police on incidents occurring on campus. Report of violations of laws and regulations should be made promptly to the Director of Student Development or to the professor, to ensure that the appropriate action is taken.

SECURITY OF FACILITIES

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva, although a private facility, maintains an open campus environment to allow freedom of movement for members of the community. The buildings are unlocked during class hours and at extended times before and after classes, so that students may utilize the available facilities.

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva students, faculty and staff are required to obtain identification cards and must be prepared to produce such identification upon request.

CAMPUS SECURITY AND CRIME PREVENTION PROGRAM

Security policies are provided in the Student Handbook and the Faculty and Staff Handbooks, which are available to all students and employees at the Seminary office and at new term orientations. From time to time, the institution will provide security information via e-mail, postal mail or flyers posted on bulletin boards regarding security alerts and events.

SAFETY TIPS

Here are some common sense tips for personal safety and loss prevention:

- Protect your possessions; keep book bags and purses with you at all times or locked in a secure place.
- Walk with other people whenever possible; avoid isolated areas such as alleys, wooded areas, and poorly lit
- or deserted parking lots and streets.
- Walk with confidence - show you are alert and in control. Be aware of your surroundings.

- If you think someone is following you, abruptly switch directions or cross the street. If you're still being
- followed, go to a public place and ask for help.
- Have your car or house keys available before you reach your door.
- Don't flash large amounts of cash or other valuable objects.
- I.D. tags with your name, address, or license number on your key chains should be avoided; if lost, they could lead to theft.
- Keep car doors and windows locked.
- If your purse or wallet is being stolen, don't fight for it. Rather than risk personal injury, release it and
- report the incident to the police.

CAMPUS SECURITY POLICIES

- A. Alcohol and Drug Policy: The seminary Code of Conduct, as presented in the Handbooks, does not condone any use of alcohol or non-medical drugs.
- B. Sexual Assault or Harassment: The seminary will not tolerate unwelcome and unsolicited conduct of a sexual nature, physical or verbal, by a member of the seminary family.
- C. Weapons: No weapons of any kind will be on the campus at any time or disciplinary action will take place.
- D. Hazing: Hazing is not acceptable at the seminary.

CRIME STATISTICS

- A. Procedure for Annual Reporting of Crime Statistics:
A report is sent through the Web to Campus Security Survey
- B. Campus Crime Statistics, 2011-2019:
There were no crimes on campus for the years stated and up to the date of the publication of this Catalog. Anyone may call the Seminary at 727-669-0276 for a copy of the current Campus Crime Report.

THE ALUMNI/AE ASSOCIATION

Those who have earned degrees from or have completed class work at the Seminary are eligible to become members of the Alumni/ae Association. The Association holds its annual meeting during Commencement Week, and has as its goals the promotion of fellowship and growth, and the advancement of the Seminary in all of its life and work.

INTEGRITY AS THE CORE OF THE BELIEVER'S LIFESTYLE

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva expects all its members to live in accordance with a lifestyle that is derived from the principles outlined in the Code of Conduct. This consists of practicing those virtues that identify the believer as belonging to God and directed to serving others, derived from the Older and Newer Testaments, which form the basis of God's grace to humanity.

It is the position of the Seminary ,that individuals will adopt a lifestyle consistent with standards of scripture for all aspects of living. Members of the Seminary community will avoid attitudes and actions that the Bible condemns as sinful and seek to embody those that express righteousness in love. In particular the virtues of humility, honesty, forbearance, faithfulness, hope, sacrificial love, a forgiving spirit, and sexual purity, specifically faithfulness in marriage and celibacy in singleness, are the aims of the life of one who follows Jesus as Lord.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is committed to providing students with an environment for learning and working which is free of sexual harassment whether by members of the same sex or opposite sex. The Seminary will not tolerate unwelcome and unsolicited conduct of a sexual nature, physical or verbal, by a member of the Seminary family. To seek gain, advancement, or consideration in return for sexual favors, or to make an intentionally false accusation of sexual harassment is a violation of this policy. Any student who believes that he or she has experienced sexual harassment as defined in this policy should immediately notify the administration.

AIDS POLICY

Out of a concern for the welfare of any individual who may have been infected by HIV, the St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva community affirms concern for and support of their efforts to regain and maintain their health.

STUDENT CONCERNS, APPEAL AND COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

The policy for student discipline and appeal is published in the Student Handbook on pp. 11-12. Student concerns should be directed to the Seminary office. Should this prove to be unsatisfactory, there are three additional resources at the student's disposal.

A student may direct concerns to the Florida Department of Education by writing or calling:

The Commission for Independent Education,
325 W. Gaines Street, Suite 1414
Tallahassee, FL 32399-0400
(888) 224-6684, or (850) 245-3200, www.fldoe.org/cie

In addition, a student has a right to file complaints that relate to the U. S. Department of Education, on the basis of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). The address for the FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, S. W.
Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

STATEMENT OF ACADEMIC FREEDOM

In the pursuit of truth before God, faculty members are free to express, in their writing, speaking, teaching, and activities, their individual positions. While free to develop, change, and accept any academic position, the unique task of the institution requires that the ultimate position of faculty members not be at variance with the basic theological stance of the community as set forth in the Basic Principles and other official statements derived from it and approved by vote of the faculty and board. The Seminary recognizes that as its faculty members pursue their respective disciplines, scholarship will create a healthy and dynamic tension which the Seminary must encourage (a more complete statement of Academic Freedom is found in the Faculty Handbook).

THE SEMINARY FACULTY

Every institution of learning recognizes that the most significant asset it has is that group of men and women who make up the faculty. St. Petersburg Seminary and Yeshiva is fortunate in having men and women of outstanding spiritual depth and professional ability to lead the students in their search for truth. Both full time and adjunct instructors designate open office hours to be available to students in order to mentor effectively in the fields to which they have been called.
